Ransomware: Understand. Prevent. Recover

With more than 20 years of experience in ransomware and information security, Allan Liska has improved countless organizations' security posture using more effective intelligence. Liska provides ransomware-related counsel and key recommendations to major global corporations and government agencies, sitting on national ransomware task forces and speaking at global conferences. Liska has worked as both a security practitioner and an ethical hacker at Symantec, ISIGHT Partners, FireEye, and Recorded Future.
